Meet Our Associate Editor

Lidia Matesic

Australian Nuclear Science and Technology Organisation
Sydney
Australia

Dr. Lidia Matesic completed an undergraduate degree in medicinal chemistry and a PhD in chemistry from the University of Wollongong, Australia. She is currently a Radiochemist at the Australian Nuclear Science and Technology Organisation in Sydney, Australia. Her research focuses on the development of new radiopharmaceuticals for the diagnosis and treatment of diseases such as neurological disorders and cancer.

SELECTED PUBLICATIONS

