Meet the Editorial Board Member

Eugenie S. Kleinerman
Department of Vascular Surgery
University of Texas
Houston, TX
USA

Professor Eugenie S. Kleinerman is associated with the Department of Pediatrics in Anderson Cancer Center, received her A.B. degree from Washington University in St. Louis, and her MD degree from Duke University. She completed her pediatric residency at the Children’s Hospital National Medical Center in Washington, DC, followed by a fellowship at the National Cancer Institute in Bethesda, MD. She was a Senior Investigator at the NCI-Frederic Cancer Research Facility then recruited to MD Anderson Cancer Center & Head of Pediatrics and Children’s Cancer Hospital at MD Anderson from 2001-2015. She has an international reputation in sarcoma research and the development of novel therapeutic approaches. She received the Distinguished Medical Alumnus Award from Duke University, the Faculty Achievement Award for Clinical Research and Distinguished Alumni Award from Washington University.

SELECTED PUBLICATIONS

5. Wolf-Dennen, K., Gordon, N. & Kleinerman, E. S. Exosomal communication by metastatic osteosarcoma cells modulates alveolar macrophages to an M2 tumor-promoting phenotype and inhibits tumoricidal functions. OncoImmunology, 2020, 9, 1747677.