Foreword

Dear authors, reviewers, collaborators, scientists, and readers of the Journal Medicinal Chemistry.

This year, the journal is running its 18th volume, and thanks to the hard work, devotion, and enthusiasm of the Editorial team, Co-Editors, Associate Editors, Regional Editors, and Editorial Advisory Board Members, we strongly believe that it will again be a successful one. More than 40 reviews and over 70 research papers have been published.

I would like to appreciate and show gratitude to all for their efforts, guidance, consideration, and support. Furthermore, by all means, I cannot forget the persistent efforts of the staff at Bentham Science Publishers, including Mr. Mahmood Alam, Mr. Akhtar Waheed and Ansar Ahmed.

They all assisted in high-quality and on-time published research.

I would also like to thank the researchers who chose our journal all these years to submit and publish their research and valuable scientific results. I encourage them to continue doing so and give my assurance that we will all be by their side to support their efforts.

We are all looking forward to having another excellent and productive year for the journal with innovative research and high-quality publications from distinguished experts in the scientific field of medicinal chemistry.

Prof. Dr. Dimitra Hadjipavlou-Litina,
Editor-in-Chief: Medicinal Chemistry
Department of Pharmaceutical Chemistry
Aristotle University of Thessaloniki
Thessaloniki
Greece
E-mail: hadjipav@pharm.auth.gr